To Whom It May Concern:

If you are considering a construction project, I would strongly encourage you to consider working with Systems West, Inc. We recently finished our second project with them and have been very pleased with the entire process. Eric Doering was our project manager for both projects.

Our first project was to add office space and a two-bay prototype build shop for which Systems West provided a very competitive bid. Before the last touches were put into this first project an urgent need to expand our production facility surfaced due to growth in sales and growth in the size of equipment we manufacture. Without hesitation, we turned to Eric and Systems West to take on this second project. Throughout the planning and construction phases of both projects, Eric and Systems West stayed flexible, accommodating several changes we decided to make. Eric was top-notch and honest, always ensuring we knew all the costs and additional time each wanted change would add to the project. Eric Doering earned our trust.

We look forward to working with Systems West again on our next project.

Best Regards,
